I've been working for the last 4 years as a Frontend engineer and IT Manager at INDITEX (stradivarius.com). I've been using technologies like angular, angular2, react, RESTful services, typescript; and also techniques like scrum and TDD and unit testing.

I'm a passionate front-end developer who loves clean code and keeping up-to-date with the latest technologies.

I'm collaborative and I'm not afraid to fail.

I love music. I play guitar in a local band.

I can bring all my expertise and my passion to Spotify. I promise hard work, senior frontend knowledge and a proper attitude.

When I saw this offer I didn't hesitate even for a second to apply because I really want to work at Spotify. I saw your videos and I believe that Spotify it's a special company.

I would appreciate if you consider my application for this position. Please give me a chance. A chance to prove I'm worthy, to prove my talent.

Thank you for taking the time to consider this application and I look forward to hearing from you in the near future.
